

the twitter biography of Matthew Britton

---

A hyper creative bloke who makes more sense with a concept or a fridge than an entire discussion with the Arts Council of Wales

30m

Obsessed with obsessions, Matthew counts the countable, pawns the personal, and asks for help when he needs what we all need---more.

23m

Dunno where to start

43m

the artists who brings everything from his twitter to my instagram, providing my feed with repetitive images of post modern post internet self, challenging the state of art and the (internet) artist in only 140 characters. his tweets are best enjoyed printed on a coffe cup or mousepad.

he makes mugs 🍵🍵🍵

36m

"I almost unfollowed him, when he spammed my timeline with his signature shirt project."

- Robin vehrs

2m

An innovative guy who sees the opportunity in repurposing things and as he does so pushes himself to the front of the digital frontier

Repurposing digital things

Hope that helps

9s

Matthew is going to launch a new project on 9/03/16. He probably doesn't look like Mark Zuckerberg but after his posts I want to image him with horrible blue t-shirt, a dog with dreadlocks and a Vaio laptop. In the future I really hope to have an exhibition of artists that are always on the Internet and never make any art with him.

1m

Tweets a lot, with occasional bursts of intense and sustained repetition, when marketing popculturenetartsomethingorother.

55s

"Trolling turn into an art form"

57s

Matthew Britton @SIGNATUREbyMB performs twitter, builds social media interactions in an art way, and creates Twitter as art!

55s

interesting, unexpected, post-post

19s

"I have never met Matthew Britton from Twitter."

56s

"I love the way Matthew Britton trolls the art world; or, should I say, trolls them back."

7s

Matthew Britton appears frequently in my twitter feed, and sometimes he makes me laugh.

;-)

4s

Of course I can: Matthew Britton must get annoyed when his name is spelt Matthew Britain.

42s

"Matthew Britton is an advanced Twitter bot."

11s

As the Kanye West of internet art, Britton came into our lives bombarding us with his thoughts and concepts, begging for likes, retweets and clicks. So naturally there wasn't a chance we would miss out on buying his first ever commissioned work 'Unrealised Art Idea 1'.

23s

"Matthew is the art of the Internet"

48s

"ANOTHR GR8 HI-OCTAIN CONTENT PRODUCER" - JACK FISHER

17m

Ok... Clickbait writer and professional art spammer. Blocked by few of the most important artist of our generation

47s

'Former WARP Intern, Unit(e) artist, and creator of gBay'.

3m

Matthew Britton makes internet art, things out of software, tools, some are useful, some are useless, all are telling, and we are waiting for a big one.

2m

Cleft, a handed bird bushes his worth. The flooded river then recedes into braids.

27s

Matthew is a bluebird

7m

"Matthew Britton has cornered the market for art without value."

4m

He married Britney spears

3m

Britton's consistency, persistence and spontaneity make him better than a bot.

10s

u make my timeline worthwhile

44s

After Britton finally left that insular fishing community at age 55, things began to improve for the former stock trader— he sold his car, shovel and 40 kg of trout to fulfill his lifelong dream: sitting in front of a computer for nine hours every day.

48s

Hi! Now that's something weird :D actually I don't know you. So I haven't been thinking anything of you. That being said, you seem to be nice, for a sheet of paper with a face on it ;D

1m

I had a dream, Matthew was the CEO of Twitter and there were only Matthew Britton tweets.

All best o+

1m

Matthew made such beautiful business card about one of my works that I still keep one in my desk drawer for memories.

55s

A very nice bot

11s

"This is what someone else thinks about me"

12m

"Might it be, Matthew wondered, that all there is to art is a trade of attention?"

1m

"Matthew Britton in an internet presence who occasionally posts very funny content"

12m

Sobering cocktail, prosuming post-colonial, androgyne feed.
:)

12m

I think you are deceptively genuine, and I know you are gay/bi/non-hetro/whatever term you want.

7m

"I generally thought he was British"

55s

"His Instagram was always like the same thing, over and over."

2m

Kind, funny, and finds new interesting ways to bring the art community together though the digital age.

1m

Emerging through the digital debris, Matthew Britton is one of the leading figures in the social-media-as-a-creative-material movement.

4m

Matthew is from Wales and he makes art and invites us to make art with him from in and with the Internet - Paul Conneally

5m

One thing I know for sure about Matthew : he had this awesome idea about asking his twitter followers to write his own biography.

2m

Matthew Britton is 🐦

1m

Matthew has a shit-ton of ideas

:)

29s

Keeping our timeline fresh & fun.

4m

"Matthew Britton's contributions to the art world are so impactful and important that Kanye West, Jeff Koons and Jasper Johns should be lining up to suck his dick."

2m

Interesting

2m

Matthew Britton keeps following & unfollowing me on Instagram

53s

Matthew Britton created a painting a really must win by retweeting.

2m

Britton, the 😊👉👎 I don't have 📱 to 📝 about his biography because I am 😞 participating with other 😞😞 😞😞 in another 1 of his many group 🎨 project like this 1 of the biography but I did it anyway because I haven't realized that I was already done it 📝 this

31s

Absolutely, will be submitting to Mam's Fridge Gallery shortly.

47s

The greatest purple shell-suit on my corduroy Twitter feed.

2m

I've always wondered what IS in that fridge...

43m

matthew britton's armpit scent must be heaven

11h

He posts a lot on Instagram and I thought about unfollowing him a few times but didn't.

11h

" @SIGNATUREbyMB was all up in my dm with a request to write something and it woke me up at 4:23am local time "

6h

Matthew Britton says it like it is

5h

"Matthew is outstanding at The Twitter Game. he has so many lols. it's amazing"

9h

Come the apocalypse his work will vanish into the digital ether but at least it won't be used as fuel like everyone else's.

11h

I don't remember how I started following you. But can I have your Young mug? You probably said something that expanded my world just a bit enough for me to follow you. So I'm waiting, for more thought expanding thoughts from you I suppose.

4m

'He's amazing. Trying to reduce hundreds of fan messages into 160 characters is a hard work"

11h

net victim

12h

Britton's daily grind focuses 93% on the pitiful demise of CCFC, 5% on cats / emailing cat websites and 2% on curating his 'mum's' fridge, no time is given to eating.

12h

Online art club founder.

12h

Matthew Britton is always up to some project on the Internet, capital I, and always promotes it through as many channels as possible, and the project is always humorous and ironic and about the Internet itself, and Britton knows how to turn himself into a Brand, capital B.

12h

"He never seemed to have an idea he didn't execute."

14h

I don't know you, but your name has been used in English since the middle ages.

14h

Matthew Britton @SIGNATUREbyMB performs twitter, builds social media interactions in an art way, and creates Twitter as art!

26s

Matthew Britton, I think he might be Welsh.

14h

15s

'Matthew is Welsh'
